of registering on Floma as a pro.

Why should you join Floma.in as a pro?

Here's a short YouTube video.

Floma™ introduction

Floma™ is where the Indian interior industry is going to be. We are trying to create a platform where everyone in the Indian interior industry can share their expertise, collaborate with others and grow.

From buyers to pros and designers to architects, everyone is either on Floma or soon going to be.

With Floma, you can share your interior design portfolio, connect with customers, get reviews, gather inspiration for your future projects and do a lot more.

Everything, For the Home that Loves...™

What is a 'Floma Pro Account' and why should I join?

We've developed a special 'Pro Account' for the industry professionals who are looking to grow their interior design business in India. You can be an interior designer, architect, or any professional in the Indian interior industry, whether a firm or an individual; a 'Floma Pro Account' can help you grow your business.

With a Floma Pro Account, you can:

Create your professional profile to highlight your portfolio in one place.

Upload your interior design and decor projects to showcase your skills.

Share your expertise in the form of interior design tips and guides to get recognition.

Upload your work related videos to reach more audiences.

Ask for reviews from customers about the quality work you've done.

Get inspiration for your future projects and connect with like minded people.

Grow with the Indian interior design community.

- The #1 reason why you should join Floma as a pro.

What support will I get from Floma?

Floma is dedicated to developing the platform, introducing more and more features that'll help the professionals like you grow their businesses. But along with technological support, we'll also help you market your services via our digital marketing efforts on social media, email and online advertising. All we want you to do on Floma is be yourself and do what you do best: share creativity! To be a bit more specific, here's how Floma will help you grow your business:

We will actively run social media marketing campaigns to market your profile and content all over India.

We will also start to promote the Floma pros via print media, exhibitions, etc., giving you more exposure.

We will be sponsoring local interior design events in Pune and Mumbai, trying to get more attention to our pros.

And we will never stop developing the platform. Many exciting features are on their way to your Floma Pro Account!
